HARTWELL HOUSE, BUCKINGHAMSHIRE

Owned by the National Trust, Hartwell House is a national treasure. Below right: The Grecian-style is the perfect place to unwind and has been visited by celebrities including Kylie Minogue (right)

IT?
The Georgian manor in Aylesbury in Buckinghamshire is steeped in history so that when OK! steps out onto the grand wooden doors, we find ourselves on the set of Downton Abbey without the drama! Owned by the National Trust, Hartwell House is a historic House Hotel, and the manor is complete with a dining room, eat hall, drawing room, bar.

WE LOVE IT?
The exiled King of the South Sea Islands stayed at Hartwell House and we were certainly royalty during our stay. After sipping

Walking into one of the bedrooms is like a step back in time champagne in the Maid Of Honour suite, which overlooks the 90-acres of countryside, we headed to the bar for a Hartwell Winter Mojito. We were then invited to our table in the dining room where a pianist tinkled on the ivories as we enjoyed a sumptuous three-course meal from the restaurant's Celebration Menu (£62 for three courses). To start, we enjoyed pan-friend scallops with apple and fennel salad, cauliflower and lime leaf velouté, which we followed with a fried fillet of sea bass with butternut squash purée, pumpkin seed and pancetta gnocchi, chard and white wine sauce. Instead of dessert, we opted for the chef's selection of British farmhouse cheeses.

WHAT ELSE?
The Hartwell spa is a short walk from the main manor house and is the perfect place to unwind during your stay. The spa boasts a beautiful Grecian-style pool surrounded by loungers, a sauna, steam room, fully equipped gymnasium and a wide range of aromatherapy treatments using Aromatherapy Associates and Jessica products. OK! treated ourselves to the 55-minute Ultimate Aromatherapy Experience (£64) which uses Swedish and neuromuscular techniques to relieve muscle tension – and it certainly did the trick as we almost fell asleep! OK!

WHO HAS VISITED?
Catherine Zeta Jones, former US president Bill Clinton and Kylie Minogue have all enjoyed stays at Hartwell House.
